Our Client's Requirement

Oaktree was asked to create a brand new, modern and contemporary client zone, to accommodate Christie & Co's growth and client interaction.

The space started off as a dilapidated shell, which was devoid of any infrastructure whatsoever. We started on a blank canvas and got to work creating the perfect office for our client.

What Oaktree Delivered

We modified the existing entrance area and created a new, colourful, modern reception area.

We created a flexible meeting zone, as requested, which accommodates small to medium meetings. The meeting space can also open up, to enable much larger "town hall" style meetings.

New WC facilities were designed and installed, as well as a tea point and a relaxed break-out space to allow for informal conversations and general collaboration.

Many of the finishes for their new office were bespoke.
