Meet Our Client: UHY Hacker Young

The UHY Hacker Young Group is an ambitious network of UK Chartered accountants. They pride themselves on providing their clients with attentive, personal service. Despite their growth, they can guarantee their clients that their high service levels remain unchanged.

Their clients, and services, come in all shapes and sizes. Whether complex, day-to-day, local, national, or international, they tailor their services and shape them to fit their client's needs; because ultimately, they are focused on the client and helping them to prosper. Currently, they have 500 professionals in 19 offices across the UK.

This was a multi-phased project at their London office, circa 6,000 sq ft. Oaktree Interiors were awarded the project after a stringent and competitive design submission and presentation process.

Our Client's Requirement

The project brief set out by the team at UHY Hacker Young was to refurbish and re-configure key areas of their London office.

This included the development of 6 meeting rooms, an engaging reception area and connecting corridors, a training room for 40 people and 2 brand new break-out areas for all their staff to use.

What Oaktree Delivered

All works were completed with the client remaining in full occupation. Constant management of access routes was always required to allow the work to be completed.

We made sure we met our clients' brief to a high standard. We created new rooms within the large office space and sourced stylish, new furniture for the office, to tie everything together. We designed and fitted the feature wall, giving the office a unique and memorable touch. The bespoke reception desk was created by our talented team and gives the office space a great focal point.

The project was successfully completed on time and within budget. The management and staff at UHY Hacker Young were extremely satisfied with what Oaktree delivered.
